

OVERTAXED.

The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—

Backache, sideache, headache. Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease follow.

A Santa Fe citizen tells here the way to keep the kidneys well. Mrs. Bernarda R. de Escudero, 104 Griffin street, Santa Fe, N. M., says: "I hold the same high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I publicly recommended them in January, 1907. I then said that for about a year I had been bothered by a dull ache and weakness across my loins and kidneys. I tired easily and any exertion brought on severe suffering with my back. Hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of, I was induced to try them. The results proved beyond a doubt that Doan's Kidney Pills live up to representations. The cure and benefit this remedy brought has led me to praise it on more than one occasion."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TRIP OVER THE OLD TRAIL

A. D. Hamilton Will Travel to Santa Fe in a Prairie Schooner

START FROM OTTAWA, KANSAS

Journey to This City to Be Made in Very Leisurely Fashion.

Pueblo, Colo., June 23.—The most successful good roads campaign in the west today and one of the leading roads movements of the entire country, the recent extension of the territory wherein this great highway will be built, and the great interest in a link in what is hoped eventually to be a coast-to-coast thoroughfare, lends especial interest to a trip on which A. D. Hamilton has recently embarked from Ottawa, Kansas.

Mr. Hamilton will traverse the new Santa Fe trail, which is the official name of this great highway, and which closely follows the famous old Santa Fe trail, which extended from Westport Landing, now Kansas City, to Santa Fe, New Mexico, and which began its operation in 1821.

Mr. Hamilton and his family will make this journey in an old fashioned prairie schooner. The modern motor car now speeding over the fine highway that stretches across Kansas and Colorado, will not be the vehicle in which he and his family will go. They have certain reasons, some economic, some sentimental, for following the old trail and the new in the means of conveyance common to the time when such highways were the only avenues of commerce in the great southwest.

From Ottawa to Santa Fe will be the route traveled by the Hamilton family. This trip will cover what was set down in the old geographies as the "Great American Desert", now one vast garden, and, in the territory west of the one hundred meridian, brought about by means of irrigation.

A. D. Hamilton comes from Cincinnati, and he has long had in mind just such a trip as this. He recently went to Ottawa, Kansas, where he was a nephew, T. P. Hamilton, formerly a car inspector with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, which traverses the old trail, and prevailed upon his nephew to accompany him.

The party will travel by easy stages. "Travel behind a team is all right," said Mr. Hamilton "if you have your time. Having time, we favor this means of transportation."

Reaching the famous wheat fields of western Kansas, the Hamiltons will help some relatives harvest their golden crop and then resume their journey. They expect to reach Santa Fe about the last of August.

The motor power will be a span of mules and a horse. Six persons will ride in the wagon. A. D. Hamilton is not new to the prairie schooner business. Thirty years ago he made the trip from Texas to Iowa in this way. The new Santa Fe Trail is a great highway. It is now actually building from Kansas City to Canon City, Colorado, and from La Junta, Colorado, down to Santa Fe, N. M. The old trail proceeded from Kansas City to the south of the Kansas river, bearing off all the time to the south, until it struck the Arkansas valley about the center of Kansas. Thence it followed the Arkansas river to La Junta, Colorado, where it bore off to the southwest through Trinidad, Raton, and Las Vegas, to Santa Fe.

The new Santa Fe Trail, a great roadway, originally ran from Hutchinson, Kansas, to the Colorado state line. It was the outgrowth of a long-cherished thought of some Kansas newspapermen, and was agitated in Kansas newspapers and commercial organizations. It finally resulted in a great conference at Hutchinson, Kansas, January 31, 1910, when steps were taken to improve township and county roads, east and west, end to end, in such a manner as to make a continuous highway. New bridges were required and were put in; roads had to be straightened here and there; new pieces had to be laid out at frequent intervals; sandy pieces of road had to be treated after the government sand-clay plan, and im-

In Bad Fix

"I had a mishap at the age of 41, which left me in bad fix," writes Mrs. Georgia Usher, of Conyers, Ga. "I was unconscious for three days, and after that I would have fainting spells, dizziness, nervousness, sick headache, heart palpitation and many strange feelings. I suffered greatly with ailments due to the change of life and had 3 doctors, but they did no good, so I concluded to try Cardui."

"Since taking Cardui, I am so much better and can do all my housework."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Do not allow yourself to get into a bad fix. You might get in so bad you would find it hard to get out.

Better take Cardui while there is time, while you are still in moderately good health, just to conserve your strength and keep you in tip top condition.

In this way your troubles, whatever they are, will gradually grow smaller instead of larger—you will be on the up-grade instead of the down—and by and bye you will arrive at the north pole of perfect health.

proved so as to make them like macadam roads.

For the past three months, the greatest activity has been manifest, and the road was finally put into such good condition, through the use of graders, hauled by steam tractors, and by the King Drag and the construction of new bridges, that an endurance run was made by ten motor cars not long since, from Hutchinson to Pueblo, 461 miles at an average speed of 20 miles an hour, and the cars went into each station ahead of time.

The Colorado territory was soon added to the highway and only recently the road was extended eastward from Newton to Kansas City and now forms, in its entirety, 600 miles, from Kansas City, Mo., to Canon City, Colo., where it terminates in the glorious skyline drive, one of the most magnificent high drives in the world.

This road is under the control of an association, composed of a president, two vice presidents, a secretary, and an executive and publicity committee for each of the Kansas and Colorado counties traversed. This association holds frequent meetings and keeps the work up. The local committee looks after matters in his locality, and reports at intervals to the officers of the association.

The road traverses in its original territory the famous Arkansas valley of Kansas and Colorado, than which there is no finer section of the entire west. Irrigation has made it what it is and intensive farming, the small agricultural unit, with alfalfa and sugar beet fields and orchards fringing it make travel along this highway a matter of pleasure.

Summer tourist travel to Colorado by motor car has been greatly stimulated by the advent of this highway. The headquarters of the new Santa Fe Trail has daily inquiries concerning the possibilities of easy travel and temporary logs of the route have been put out pending the preparation of a complete permanent log. In the summer and early fall of this year, numerous runs, some endurance, some of a leisurely nature, will go over this road, and for the motorist as well as for the farmer it is a great advantage.

In the valley that sheltered this great roadmaking campaign in its infancy, and was the scene of its first achievements, will be held this year the Eighteenth National Irrigation Congress. No less an authority than former President Roosevelt called the National Irrigation Congress "the nation's greatest development agency." It has stimulated every development work in the west for two decades, and will hold its sessions at Pueblo, September 26-30, 1910. In connection with it will be the greatest and most comprehensive irrigation exposition ever held in the west, and the work of preparation for it is proceeding rapidly.

The possibilities of utilization of the new Santa Fe Trail in going to the Irrigation Congress has been recognized, and at a recent meeting of the trail organization, these possibilities were pointed out in resolutions, and people were invited to attend this great congress by traveling over the trail in motor cars. The increasing number of farmers in Kansas and Colorado owning motor cars has made it probable that a great portion of the attendance at Pueblo next fall will be in this way.

So the new Santa Fe Trail, relic of the old Santa Fe Trail, which was the highway of commerce in the Great Southwest before the days of steam roads, and over which Mr. Hamilton will make the trip in the old fashioned prairie schooner, will be the scene of great travel this year, not only by runs of various character, but in attendance at the Eighteenth National Irrigation Congress.

DAUGHTER OF SHERIFF BALLARD FIGURES IN ROMANCE.

Unbeknown to Her Parents is Led to Altar By Young Man From Clovis.

Says the Roswell Daily Record:

"Several days ago word was received here that Miss Mable Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Ballard, had married 'Slip' Freeman, at Clovis on last Monday, the day that she went through that place with her mother, en route to California. Last night Mr. Ballard received a confirmation of the report. Mr. Freeman works for the Santa Fe railroad and plays on the railroad baseball team at Clovis. He and Miss Ballard evidently had it all arranged; for while the train was there, waiting about an hour for the cut-off train to leave, they went up town and were married. Miss Ballard returned to the train and went on to California with her mother, saying nothing of the marriage. Mr. Ballard accompanied them as far as Albuquerque, on his way to Santa Fe and learned nothing of the ceremony. Mrs. Freeman is now in California with her mother.

"The marriage of Miss Ballard comes as a surprise to all. She is one of Roswell's prettiest and most popular young women and that an out of town man should win her heart and hand without even the knowledge of her parents adds to his glory. He is certainly to be congratulated. Mr. Freeman has been known here only during his recent visits with the Clovis baseball team, but has made a good impression by gentlemanly conduct both on the diamond and as a private citizen. The friends of the young couple wish them well and a happy married life."

COULDN'T TIE DOWN THE TEXAS DEMOCRATS.

They Had Narrow Escapes From Being Compelled to Take Oath to Vote Straight Ticket.

San Antonio, Texas, June 23.—Those good Democrats in Bexar county who have been in the habit of doing things to the Democratic ticket will be able to continue doing so after having had a narrow escape from taking an oath to the effect that they were Democrats and voted for the purpose of upholding the Democratic ticket. The oath and possible perjury charge are off as the result of action taken by the Bexar county Democratic executive committee, which will confine the declaration of the voter to a plain statement of fact as prescribed by the Terrell election law. Instead of swearing to the following: I am a Democrat and pledge myself to support the nominee of the party, the voter will merely look at the words as printed at the head of the ticket, make his crosses and generally please himself.

The idea to make every voter take an oath as to his political affiliations and intentions originated with some of the members of the committee some time ago. At a recent session, however, the plan was defeated for the reason that it did not seem to have the sanction of the constitution. Bexar county Democrats, usually accused of being Republicans incog, will now have an opportunity to do as hitherto.
